Legislative Update for the week ending 04/14/2017

Overview

Greetings Readers! There are only 21 more days until session is scheduled to adjourn. We are well beyond the halfway mark in the 2017 Florida Legislative Session and at this point, if a bill has not been heard in committee then we should consider it dead. The update next week will list all the bills not moving in the front section and those same bills will be removed from the updates.

This week both chambers of the Legislature passed budgets for the coming state fiscal year. The two budgets are essentially $3.9 Billion apart when looking at spending and revenues counted in each budget. Last week we covered some of the expected differences in the two budgets and the thoughts of the legislative leaders related to budget provisions.

The House version of the budget is $1.1 Billion smaller than the current year budget and adding complications to the whole matter is that the Governor announced this week that the federal government would send $1.5 Billion to Florida to pay for health care for the poor and uninsured patients. This was a larger number than expected and it may allow money in both the House and Senate budgets to be freed up for other uses. These are good problems to have in any budget process.

Either way, a final budget that is acceptable to both the House and Senate must be finalized by May 2nd to allow for a 72 hour “cooling off period” before a final vote on May 5th which is the scheduled end of session. Both legislative leaders are well aware of the public perception problems that could develop if they don’t get the job done on time. Both are also well-seasoned and understand that you have to come to the table and make a deal, a compromise, in order to advance some of your priorities.

We will catch up with you next week – I hope you enjoyed this edition of the Legislative Update!

Lastly, this issue of the Legislative Update, as all issues do, contains changes to bill status or bills that are new to this Legislative Update in RED for your ease of discerning changes from the previous edition. For a fast read, look for the changes in RED.
